

HAVE YOU HEARD OF THE PROGRAM?

The Early Psychosis Intervention Program provides rapid, comprehensive, and tailored care to young people aged 14 to 35 who are showing signs of psychosis, with the aim of facilitating their recovery and long-term well-being.

The program offers a specialized, evidence-based and person-centered approach.

THE PROGRAM OFFERS

- A comprehensive and rapid assessment to confirm the diagnosis and guide care.
- An interdisciplinary team composed of psychiatrists, nurses, and occupational therapists.
- A personalized treatment plan tailored to each person's needs and goals.
- Individualized medication management, when necessary.
- Resilience training to develop coping strategies.
- Support for employment and education to facilitate continuing or returning to school and work.
- Education and support for families to better understand psychosis and learn how to support their loved ones.
- Peer support provided by individuals who have lived through the experience.

The approach focuses on recovery, collaboration, and shared decision-making with the individual and, if they wish, with their loved ones.

The earlier psychosis is recognized, the higher are the chances of recovery.

Early intervention helps reduce the impact on personal, family, academic, and professional life, and promotes a faster return to daily activities.
